Nikkei Superior Products and Services Award

WAVEATTOCH™ received the Nikkei Superior Products and Services Award* at an award ceremony held on February 1. Since 5G signals cannot travel very far, it is essential to increase the number of base stations for practical use. WAVEATTOCH's transparent glass antenna was highly rated for its ease of installation, allowing for seamless integration to environment, and its contribution to the spread of 5G communication network.

*Nikkei Inc's annual award given to outstanding new products and services in Japan. This year was the 39th award ceremony, and 16 products and services were selected, including WAVEATTOCH™, for the Grand Prize.
